Judge Nash, of Ohio; Judge Lee and Mr. Goggess, of this State, argued that after the United States Government treated the so-called Confederate States as beligerents, the acts of soldiers and officers of the Confederate armies, done in the prosecution of the war, were not trespasses for which they are civilly liable; while Mr. Stanton and Mr. Allison argued that they are liable for such acts. The Court did not de-cide the question, but held it under con-sideration for future adjudication.

FAILURE.-No little excitement was occasioned in the neighborhood of the Court House on Saturday, by the announcement of the failure of one of our most industrious and enterpriaing merchants. It came out, however, that he had overreached himself, and like thousands of others who preceded him, he was bound to go under. The immediate cause of the present commercial disaster was the purchase of a heavy stock from one of our Main street firms, and a sudden collapse in the demand for the article purchased. It was asserted that arrangements would probably be made to-day which would enable the broken merchant to resume business. No meeting of the creditors, however, had been held, and it is presumed that the whole amount of the claims against him will have to be settled before the open countenance of the shipwrecked operator will again be seen on 'change. The many triends of Scott, the peanut ender, will read the above announcement with sorrow, and they must receive it as his apology for not making his regular calls on them with his fells, tucks, braids, embroiders, and exwares. An investment in a whole sack ecutes all work that can be done with of peanuts sometime since, and a fearful falling off in that trade after the departure of Hon. J. Ruius Smith, did stock of improved machines, and the business for him. He is confident his stock on hand will be released from

MARRIAGE,

When the misguided and impradent voltary of pleasure finds that he has imbited the seeds of this painful disease it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame of dread of discovery deters him from applying to those, who from education and respectability, can slone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horriving and the constitutional symptoms of this horriving as make their appearance, such as ulcrated sore throat, dieased nose, nocturns, pains in the head and limbs, dimness of significant deafness, nodes on the shin-bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremines, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object commiseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful sufferings, by sending him to "that Undiscovered Country from whence he traveller returns." ORGANIC WEAKNESS,
Immediately cured and full vigor restored.
This distressing affection, which renders life miserable and marriage impossible, is the penaity paid by the victims of improper indulgences. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offsprins, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becames deranged, the Physicial and Mental Functions Weakened, Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepais, Paipitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debuity, and Wasting of the Frame Cough, Consumption, Decay and Death. DR. JOHNSON,

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which rain both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dinness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement or the Digestive Functions, General Debility Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

MENTALLY.—The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self-Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining heaith, losing their vigor, becoming weak pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, Cough, and Symptoms of Consumption.

Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, indulged in when alone, a habit frequently learned from evil companions, or as school, the effects of which are nightly felf, even when asleep, and, if not cured, render marriage impossible, and destroys both mini and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyments of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in a certain secret habit. Such persons must, before contemplating blighted with our own. Printed in the BEST STYLE and with dispatch.
